

where bodies & UXOs
mix for each other
our father to lead the trek oxen steering away from waters & up into darkness

The gulls come too & we squawk & we dream up the salted air then formally the affair of those we let decompose favored love

& we are grateful
for our stomachs

